Advanced Module Description: MD simulation of biological macromolecules.

Molecular simulation is a very powerful toolbox in modern molecular modelling and enables us to follow and understand structure and dynamics with extreme detail – on scales where motion of individual atoms can be tracked. The module focuses on using molecular dynamics to simulate the natural motion of biological macromolecules and to compare with experiments.

Students should preferentially have basic knowledge of Linux command line environment.