Publishing in chemistry in 1980 – 2030”

The technical side of scientific publishing has changed dramatically since 1980, while the human side has not.

- Can computers select reviewers?
- Open Access: Who's gonna pay for it?
- Chinese get money for publications – will this happen here?
- Preprints and quality assurance – does this work?

These and other questions will be discussed in the talk and a particular emphasis will be placed on the developments of Angewandte Chemie.

"After the talk: Beer&Pretzel"

Guests are very welcome!
